

Welcome to ITV - The Week-End College!
You are enrolled in:

Philosophy 1 (7924)
(UC: CSU) 3 Units

Introduction to Philosophy

A survey of the fundamental questions about self, society, and universe. Primary focus is on theories of reality, theories of knowledge, philosophy of religion, and philosophy of death.

The Weekend College classes combine video lessons and online activities with weekend class meetings. You should complete all three components to successfully pass the class. The course requirements are in the online syllabus. If you have questions contact your instructor via email or by telephone during their office hours listed above.

Instructor
George Lujan, M.A.

Office Hours
 Wednesdays, 1:00 PM – 8:00 PM

Getting Started

Even though you do not meet with your instructor until the first weekend of the semester, your class begins online Monday, February 4, 2008. Follow the checklist below to get started in your class now.

1. Choose a Campus

Select the campus to attend your weekend class and make note of its time and location.

2. Buy Your Books

The back of this page lists the required and recommend books for your course. Buy your books as soon as possible so that you can get started on your assigned readings. Textbooks can be purchased at City, Southwest, Mission, Valley, and Pierce Colleges or from most online bookstores.

3. Log In

The class website opens Feb. 4, log in and read your course syllabus. It will list all assignments and quizzes times and due dates. You can find log in instructions on the last page of this letter.

4. Email Your Instructor

Once you have logged in, email your instructor and let him know that you have successfully logged in to the class website.

5. Plan Your Schedule

Weekend College courses are fast paced—covering a lot of material in a short period of time. At a minimum, you can expect to spend 10 to 12 hours per week completing the assignments. Schedule time in advance for reading the textbooks, watching the video episodes, and completing the online assignments. If you plan to watch or record the videos on the educational cable channel LA 36, also note those times and set the timer on your Tivo or DVD recorder in advance. You can find the broadcast schedules on the back of this page

Classroom Location Schedule

Attend class at any one of the four campuses: L.A. City, L.A. Pierce, Southwest or L.A. Valley College. The instructor teaches at all four locations.

Day	Campus	Time	Location

Philosophy 1 Students:

Alfred North Whitehead once referred to philosophy as an “adventure of ideas,” and I would like to welcome you on that journey. While my reasons for teaching philosophy are various, of direct and immediate relevance is the following: I enjoy engaging inquiring minds in the exploration of philosophical topics of profound importance and the deep and enduring questions they engender.

The Philosophy 1 class in which you have enrolled is a hybrid course consisting of video presentations, on-line instruction and live interaction in order to simultaneously encourage an appreciation of the nature and development of western thought, and the development of critical thinking skills and computer literacy. To assist you in orienting yourselves and getting the most out of the course from the outset, the college, ITV and I have provided a number of features on the ITV and Etudes websites for Philosophy 1:

On the enclosed material and the ITV website, you will find the video cablecast schedule for this quarter.

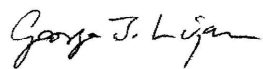

Under “syllabus” and under “resources” on the Etudes site, you will find the syllabus for this course, which includes my office hours and the grading system for the course.

Under “resources” on the Etudes site, you will find some of the better philosophy websites on the Internet, some useful non-philosophy websites, several academic support sites, supplementary reading materials, review questions for tests and quizzes, research paper guidelines and suggestions, and a complete timetable for the reading assignments so that you can do as well as possible on the tests and quizzes, and take fullest advantage of the in-class lectures. Exploring “resources” and familiarizing yourselves with its contents will be well worth the time.

The assigned text for the course is Manuel Velasquez’s, Philosophy, Tenth Edition (2008), and Velasquez’s and White’s Telecourse Study Guide — The Examined Life is highly recommended.

The materials provided throughout Etudes and included in the video episodes and the texts should be useful, but it may be the case that special difficulties may arise with which you may need assistance. Please contact me with any problems you may have, with either the course material or requirements of this class. If you need to meet with me, I will make every effort to do what I can to help you.

I look forward to having you in this course and participating in the “adventure of ideas.”

George J. Lujan, M.A.
