

APA Online Citation Examples

The following examples are based on the APA (American Psychological Association) format. Note: If one or more of these citation elements are missing, use whatever information is present.

For citing Reference and Periodical Databases from the World Wide Web provide the following elements:

- |  |                           |
|--|---------------------------|
| 1. Author's name (last name, initials)   | Levine, K..               |
| 2. Date of publication                   | (1996, November 12).      |
| 3. Title of article                      | Single, with children.    |
| 4. Name of publication in italics | Men's Health       |
| 5. Volume number                         | 65,                       |
| 6. Page numbers                          | 130-131.                  |
| 7. Date of visit to site                 | Retrieved August 2, 2006, |
| 8. Name of database                      | from MasterFILE Premier.  |

Clinton, B. (1999.) The definition of hate crimes should be expanded. In T.L. Roleff (Ed.), Hate Groups. Opposing Viewpoints Series. Greenhaven, 1999. Retrieved August 2, 2006, from Opposing Viewpoints Resource Center database.

Glazer, S. (1999, June 18). Boys' emotional needs: is growing up tougher for boys than for girls? CQ Researcher, 9. Retrieved August 2, 2006, from CQ Researcher Online database.

Martinez, A. (1999, April 11). Things that go buzz in the night. Los Angeles Times, p. B.1. Retrieved August 2, 2006, from ProQuest Newspapers database.

Sturz, J. (1996, November). Single, with children. Men's Health, 65(11), 130-131. Retrieved August 2, 2006, from MasterFILE Premier database.

Wendleton, K. (1999.) Building a great resume: for job hunters, career changers, consultants and freelancers. Franklin Lakes, NJ: Career Press. Retrieved August 2, 2006, from NetLibrary database.

For citing information from Internet Sites provide the following elements:

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1 Organization's or Author's name (last name, initials)  | Lynch, T.   |
| 2 Date of electronic publication or latest update  | (1997, October 8).  |
| 3 Full title of the document, or article or poem, etc  | DSN Trials and Tribble-ations Review.   |
| 4 Title of the entire Internet site (in italics)   | Psi Phi Bradley's Science Fiction Club.  |
| 5 Date of visit to site  | Retrieved August 9, 2006,   |
| 6 Name of institution or organization that sponsors the site if not cited earlier                            | from Bradley University Web site:   |
| 7 URL (complete address for specific document or Internet Site. If necessary, break URL only after a slash). | http://www.bradley.edu/campusorg/psiphi/DS9/ep/5034.html |

Document from an Internet Site using elements 3, 4, 5, 7

Eleanor Roosevelt. Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library Museum. Retrieved August 9, 2006, from <http://fdrlibrary.marist.edu/erfaq.html>

Entire Site using elements 1, 2, 4, 5, 7

Jane Austen Information Page. (2000, September 6). H. Churchyard (Ed.). Retrieved August 9, 2006, from <http://www.pemberley.com/janeinfo/janeinfo.html>

Document from an Internet Site using elements 1-7

Lynch, T. (1997, October 8). DSN Trials and Tribble-ations Review. Psi Phi: Bradley's Science Fiction Club. Retrieved August 9, 2006, from Bradley University Web site: <http://www.bradley.edu/campusorg/psiphi/DS9/ep/5034.html>

* American Psychological Association. (2001). Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.). Washington: Author.